

LETTER OF AGREEMENT FOR COMMERCIAL SUPPORT OF A CME ACTIVITY

The International Association for the Study of Lung Cancer (IASLC) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Association for the Study of Lung Cancer (IASLC) is committed to presenting CME activities that promote improvements or quality in health care and are independent of the control of commercial interests. As part of this commitment, the IASLC has outlined in this written agreement the terms, conditions, and purposes of commercial support for its CME activities.

Commercial support is defined as financial, or in-kind, contributions given by a commercial interest, which is used to pay all or part of the costs of a CME activity. The ACCME defines a commercial interest as any entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on patients. The ACCME does not consider the following to be commercial interests: 501-C non-profit or government; Non-health care related companies; Liability insurance providers; Health insurance providers; Group medical practices; For-profit hospitals; For profit rehabilitation centers; For-profit nursing homes; Blood banks and Diagnostic laboratories.

TERMS, CONDITIONS, AND PURPOSES

Independence

1. This activity is for scientific and educational purposes only and will not promote any specific proprietary business interest of the Commercial Interest.
2. The Association for the Study of Lung Cancer is responsible for all decisions regarding the identification of educational needs, determination of educational objectives, selection and presentation of content, selection of all persons and organizations that will be in a position to control the content of the CME, selection of education methods, and the evaluation of the activity.

Appropriate Use of Commercial Support

3. The Association for the Study of Lung Cancer will make all decisions regarding the disposition and disbursement of the funds from the Commercial Interest.
4. The Commercial Interest will not require the Association for the Study of Lung Cancer to accept advice or services concerning teachers, authors, or participants or other education matters, including content.
5. All commercial support associated with this activity will be given with the full knowledge and approval of the Association for the Study of Lung Cancer. No other payments shall be given to the director of the activity, planning committee members, teachers or authors, joint sponsor or any others involved with the supported activity.
6. The Association for the Study of Lung Cancer will upon request furnish the Commercial Interest with documentation detailing the receipt and expenditure of the commercial support.

Commercial Promotion

7. Product-promotion material or product-specific advertisement of any type is prohibited in or during the CME activity. The juxtaposition of editorial and advertising material on the same products or subjects is not allowed. Live or enduring promotional activities must be kept separate from the CME activity. Promotional materials cannot be displayed or distributed at the activity location immediately before, during or after a

CME activity. Commercial Interest may not engage in sales or promotional activities while in the location of the CME activity.

- 8. The Commercial Interest may not be the agent providing the CME activity to the learners.

Disclosure

- 9. The Association for the Study of Lung Cancer will ensure that the source of support from the Commercial Interest, either direct or “in-kind,” is disclosed to the participants in program brochures, syllabi, and other program materials at the time of the activity. This disclosure will not include the use of a trade name or a therapeutic class or group message. The acknowledgement of commercial support may state the name, mission, and clinical involvement of the Commercial Interest and may include corporate logos and slogans, if they are not promotional in nature.
